FY2017 Arts Industry Digital Marketing Benchmark Survey

Welcome to the survey!

We're excited to debut the new and improved Arts Industry Digital Marketing Benchmark survey. We think your time will be well-spent. The data gathered will provide insights into digital marketing practices among your peers and across the field, and serve as a tool for strategy development and infrastructure planning.

A few notes & reminders before you begin:

1. Before beginning the survey, please gather all the data you'll need:

https://ideas.capacityinteractive.com/hubfs/Benchmark%20Study/2017/2017%20Benchmark%20Survey%20Data%20Requirements%20for%20SurveyMonkey.pdf

- 2. Once you have that information gathered, we estimate it will take you 20-30 minutes to complete the survey.
- 3. As you take the survey, you'll see additional tips and notes to clarify questions along the way. Need assistance? Please reach out: johnna@capacityinteractive.com
- 4. You may edit your responses as you go along, but once you click "done" or close your browser, you will not be able to return to, or modify, your responses.

Your privacy:

All data will be kept completely confidential by Capacity Interactive. Identifying information will be used by CI to plan and administer this benchmark study for the field (i.e., to maintain stable cohorts of respondents year over year).

Organization names will only be used as a means of acknowledging the contributing organizations in the final study report and will never be shared in conjunction with survey responses.

FY2017 Arts Industry Digital Marketing Benchmark Survey Infrastructure: Content Strategy & Production In this section of the survey, we'll delve into three resourcing and infrastructure areas related to digital marketing. First up, we'll look at content strategy and production. TIP: Some of the elements of the resourcing questions that follow may not fall precisely under the umbrella of marketing in your org chart. Please answer based on the resources to which you have consistent, dedicated access, even if they technically fall under another department. * 15. How many team members in, or working with, your department are creating content that you use for digital marketing (e.g., for your website, social media, email, media campaigns, etc.)? As a reminder, this includes copy, design, video, visuals/assets, and any other content. Please give the full time equivalent (FTE) for all staff (full-time, part-time, or temporary) completing these tasks. For example, if three full time staff across your organization are doing this with half of their time, your response would be 1.5. If none, enter "0".
